What can science tell us about the afterlife?

The Windbridge Institute for Applied Research in Human Potential

www.windbridge.org

Hello!

My name is Dr. Julie Beischel and I am the Director of Research at the Windbridge Institute.

When I tragically and unexpectedly lost my mother to suicide while I was in graduate school earning a PhD in pharmacology and toxicology, I turned to science to answer the questions I had about what happens to consciousness when the physical body dies.

After I received an evidential mediumship reading and discovered that this important topic has received very little attention from mainstream scientists, I decided to dedicate my career to research addressing afterlife and similar topics.

Because there are very few traditional university positions or government funding options to study these controversial topics, I co-founded the Windbridge Institute in 2008 with my husband and research partner Mark Boccuzzi.

Mark and I study a variety of phenomena including:

- assisted after-death communication (mediumship),
- ghost- and haunt-related phenomena,
- instrumental transcommunication (ITC),
- electronic voice phenomena (EVP),
- non-human animal consciousness,
- micro- and macro-psychokinesis (PK), and
- couples' psi.

At the Windbridge Institute, we work with a skilled team of researchers, volunteers, scientific advisory board members, and Windbridge Certified Research Mediums to design and perform cutting-edge studies addressing real-world issues.

I hope you'll join us on this journey.

The research that takes place at the Windbridge Institute has been judged by international peers to be important and reflects the Institute's commitment to conducting world-class science.

Why is afterlife research important?

- It may ease common anxiety and fears surrounding death.
- It may help us understand the nature of consciousness.
- Mediumship readings may help in grief recovery.
- Mediums may be able to assist in solving crimes.
- Evidence for life after death may revolutionize healthcare.

At a time when there are precious few remaining research centers investigating non-local consciousness and its implications of survival, the Windbridge Institute serves as a beacon for future discovery.
